

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Dave Kenney Selected for the Wellness Coaching Advisory Committee at Humber College in Toronto

Toronto, Ontario, Canada (December 13, 2019) – The Board of Governors of Humber College Institute of Technology & Advanced Learning in Toronto has appointed Dave Kenney as the newest a member of its Wellness Coaching Advisory Committee. As a member, Kenney will serve a three-year term and will become part of a dynamic educational community that serves more than 29,000 full-time and 56,000 part-time and continuing education students.

During his service as an advisory committee member, Kenney will be responsible for providing assistance to faculty and direction to students in a number of areas, which include experiential learning, employment prospects, student awards, curriculum advisement, and more. He will also be tasked with special assignments such as involvement in convocation; various award ceremonies; board meetings; and promoting good relationships with local community members, businesses, and industry and professional associations. Wellness Coaching Advisory Committee members are critical to the success of Humber College students.

Over the last 30 years, Kenney has built a career focused on helping others. He is co-founder and executive director at Emergo Recovery, a private, residential recovery and wellness center. He is a PhD candidate in Psychology at Canterbury Christ Church University in England with a focus on neuroscience and psychology and holds a master's degree in education from Northwestern State University in Louisiana. He is a certified Brain Health Coach, a certified Life Coach, and has certification in Self-Management for Addiction Recovery (SMART Recovery) and as a Recovery Coach (CCAR).

Kenney is also a co-host of Emergo Radio, focused on human development and personal growth, helping people to rise above.

“It is such an honour to serve as an Advisory Committee member with Humber College. Humber College possess the highest standards in post-secondary education and is committed to advancing students and faculty in pursuit of their academic and career passions. I am committed to doing what small part I can to further support the students, faculty, and Board of Humber College,” shares Dave Kenney.

To learn more about Emergo Recovery, please visit emergorecovery.com and connect with them on LinkedIn.

About Dave Kenney: Dave Kenney is the co-founder and executive director at Emergo Recovery, a private, residential recovery and wellness center focused on a brain-first approach specializing in Actualized Recovery®. Kenney has dedicated his extensive career to helping individuals reclaim their life after struggles with addictions, anxiety, depression, and other debilitating challenges. Kenney is a member of both the Canadian Society of Addiction Medicine \(CSAM\) and the American Society of Addiction Medicine \(ASAM\). For more information about Kenney or to connect with him on LinkedIn, go here. Or listen to Emergo Radio.

About Humber College Institute of Technology & Advanced Learning: Humber College is one of Canada's leading postsecondary institutions, offering programs that emphasize a solid academic foundation and practical, hands-on learning. Humber College is committed to student success through excellence in teaching and learning, and has an internationally recognized reputation for quality learning, offering a wide-range of career-focused opportunities for students to personalize their educational path, including 160 full-time programs across more than 40 fields of study, 200 part-time, and 400 online programs or courses.

Media Contact:

Erica Diverio

TallGrass Public Relations

(908) 229-0724

erica.diverio@tallgrasspr.com